

Sustainable Transportation, Air Quality, and Climate

A webinar sponsored by RAMP in partnership with the American Lung Association

March 14th, 2024

Housekeeping

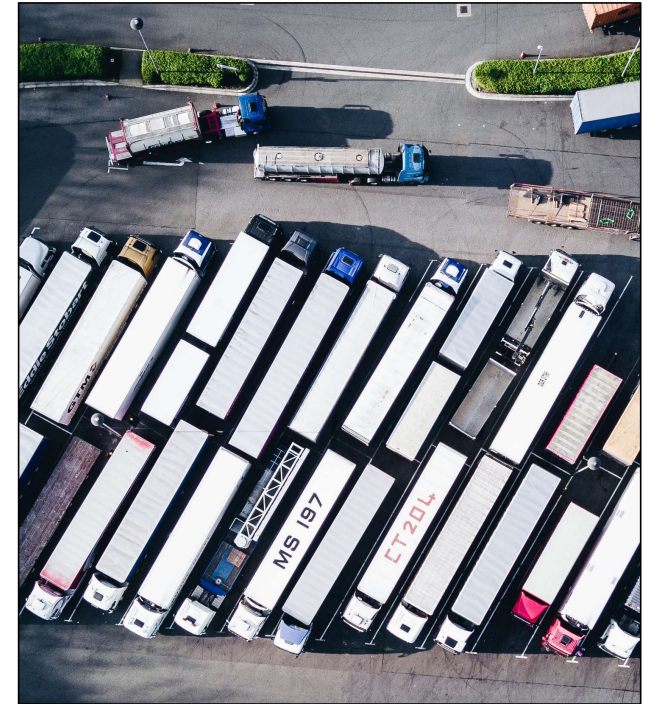

- Please remain muted
- Use the chat box for questions or raise your “hand”
- Webinar recording and slides will be sent to all registrants soon

Today's agenda

- Welcome remarks
- Presentations and moderated discussion
- Audience Q&A
- Closing announcements

Moving Forward Network

Most polluted cities in the US

By Ozone

- #1: Los Angeles-Long Beach, CA
- #2: Visalia, CA
- #3: Bakersfield, CA
- #4: Fresno-Madera-Hanford, CA
- #5: Phoenix-Mesa, AZ
- #6: Denver-Aurora, CO
- #7: Sacramento-Roseville, CA
- #8: San Diego-Chula Vista-Carlsbad, CA
- #9: Houston-The Woodlands, TX
- #10: Salt Lake City-Provo-Orem, UT

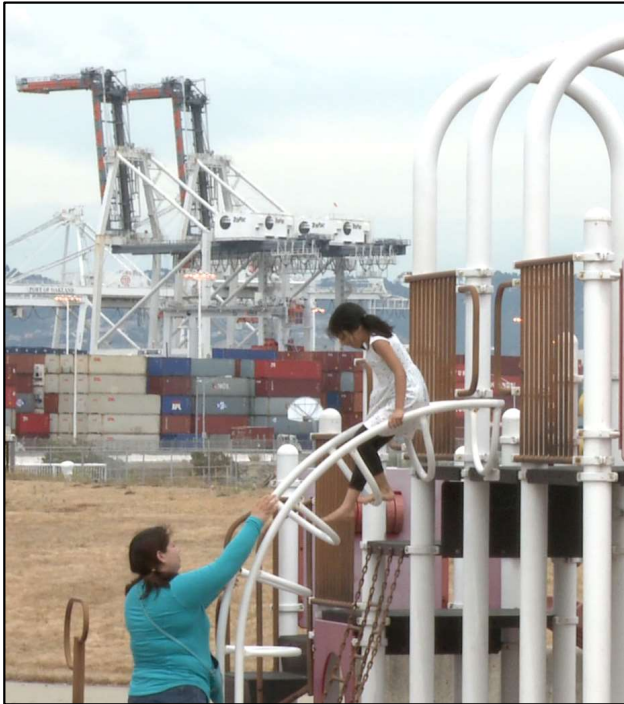

By Short-Term Particle Pollution

- #1: Bakersfield, CA
- #2: Fresno-Madera-Hanford, CA
- #3: Fairbanks, AK
- #4: Visalia, CA
- #5: Reno-Carson City-Fernley, NV
- #6: San Jose-San Francisco-Oakland, CA
- #7: Redding-Red Bluff, CA
- #8: Sacramento-Roseville, CA
- #9: Chico, CA
- #9: Los Angeles-Long Beach, CA

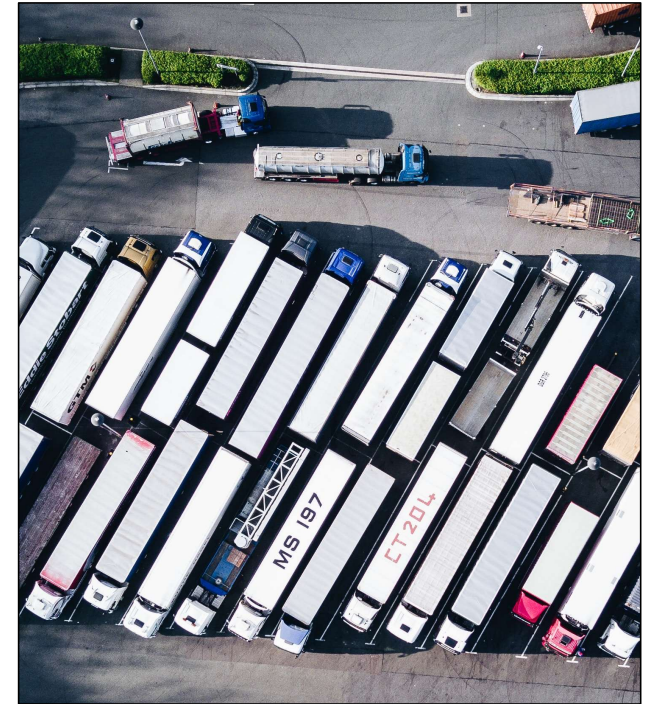

Learn more at: <https://www.lung.org/research/sota>

“[Nationally,] in the counties with the worst air quality that get failing grades for all three pollution measures, 72% of the 18 million residents affected are people of color, compared to the 28% who are white.

American Lung Association’s State of the Air report (2023)
Learn more at: <https://www.lung.org/research/sota>

Moving Forward Network

Today's presenters

- Ariel Fideldy, California Air Resources Board
- Chris Chavez, Coalition for Clean Air
- Mariela Ruacho, American Lung Association
- Will Barrett (moderator), American Lung Association

Wrap-up

- Thank you, panelists and participants!
- Recording and slides will be sent to registrants soon

Looking ahead – future events

- Understanding the Impacts of Air Pollution on Life Expectancy Across Communities -- Study Design and Partner Feedback
 - March 26th, 10:00-11:00 AM OR March 28th, 1:00-2:00 PM
 - Registration is required
 - For more information, see www.rampasthma.org or the follow-up email that will be sent
- Community Action to Fight Asthma Virtual Summit
 - 9:00 AM-1:00 PM Pacific on May 29th and 30th
 - Save the date! Registration information coming soon at www.rampasthma.org or through our e-newsletter (<https://rampasthma.org/ramp-digest/>)

Thank you!